

The Super
Duper
Pig

by Apurva

Once there was a fish and a turtle. They lived in a lake next to a fisherman's house.

The fisherman used his fishing pole to catch the fish. The fish saw the bait and got hungry. He held on to the bait and was caught.

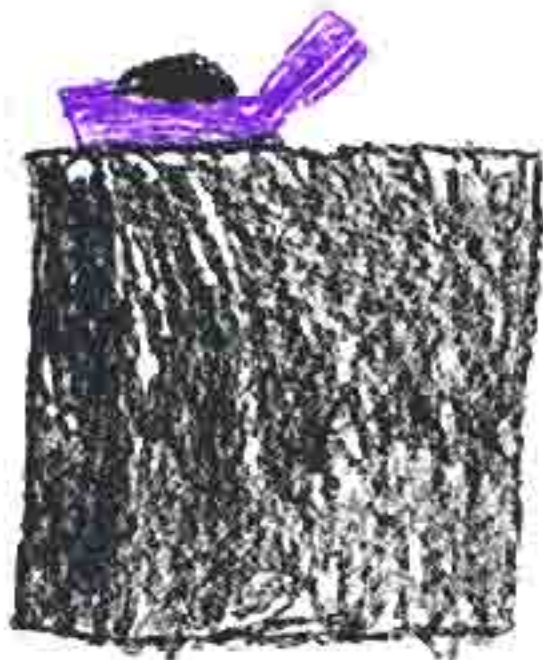

The turtle saw the fish getting caught and thought of a plan to save the fish. The turtle walked to the fisherman's house. The door was open. He walked right in. The fisherman was not looking. The turtle walked over to the stove and unplugged it. He climbed over and hid behind the frying pan. When the fisherman switched on the stove, the turtle made the noise of the stove turning on.

The fisherman flipped the fish on the pan and went away. The turtle had some leaves with him. He took the fish and put the leaves in the shape of the fish on the pan. He escaped with the fish back to the lake.

When the hungry fisherman saw the leaves, he screamed.

The turtle and the fish lived happily at the lake and never saw the fisherman again.

